Questions to Ask a Fertility Clinic

A free checklist to compare clinics with confidence — bring it to every consultation.

Success rates & honesty

- What are your published success rates for people in my age group and situation?
- Do you report your data to a national registry?
- How do you measure success — per cycle started, per retrieval, or per transfer?
- Will you be honest with me if treatment is unlikely to help?

Costs & what's included

- What is the full cost of one cycle, and what exactly is included?
- Are medications, monitoring, anesthesia, ICSI, genetic testing, and storage separate?
- Do you offer multi-cycle packages, refund programs, or financing?

- Can I get a written estimate before I commit?

Care & communication

- Who will I see at each visit — the same doctor or different staff?
- How quickly can I start, and what are typical wait times?
- Is language support available in my preferred language?
- How do I reach the clinic with questions during a cycle?

My next step

Compare at least two clinics before deciding. Note your answers side by side, and trust how each clinic makes you feel — honest, clear answers matter as much as the numbers.
